DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. In light of the complexity of the election/restriction requirement for this application, no telephone communication regarding the restriction has been made. See MPEP § 812.01.
2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-13, drawn to electrode for electrochemical cell, classified in class 429, subclass 209.
 - II. Claim 14, drawn to capacitor, classified in class 361, subclass 502.

Inventions I and II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as an electrode for in primary battery, secondary battery, or fuel cell and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1745

4. Should applicant elect Invention I, election of species must be made.

5. Claim 1 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising a nitrogen-containing heterocyclic compound and a polymer having a unit containing a nitrogen-containing heterocyclic. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Should applicant elect the nitrogen-containing heterocyclic compound species in claim 1, further election of species is required.

7. Claim 4 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising imidazole, triazole, pyrazole, benzimidazole, and their derivatives as defined in claim 5. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species from the group of species presented in claim 5, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

8. Should applicant elect the polymer species in claim 1, further election of species is required.

9. Claim 6 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising polymer containing benzimidazole moiety, benzbisimidazole moiety, imidazole moiety. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Art Unit: 1745

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

10. Claim 7 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising polybenzimidazole, polyvinylimidazole. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species from the group of species presented in claim 5, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

11. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121 to elect a single ultimate disclosed specie for each of the above genera for prosecution on the merits to which claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held allowable. Where specific species are not identified in the claims, Applicant should elect a specific specie from the Specification. An alternative method of election is to identify an Example which collectively exemplifies the elected species.

12. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
